

JEFF MACLACHLAN LIKE NO OTHER!

Jeff MacLachlan serves as Chief Financial Officer for Granger Group, bringing a wealth of expertise in financial strategy, capital markets, and operational efficiency to the organization. With years of experience guiding complex real estate and investment portfolios, Jeff ensures that every Granger project is built on a foundation of fiscal responsibility, long-term sustainability, and investor confidence.

As CFO, Jeff leads capital structuring, financial forecasting, and risk management for Granger Group's diverse portfolio, which spans healthcare, wellness, residential, and mixed-use developments nationwide. His ability to design and optimize capital stacks—balancing private equity, institutional funding, and innovative financing tools—adds significant value to both partners and investors.

Jeff's leadership strengthens Granger Group's reputation as a trusted developer and investment partner by:

- Delivering transparent financial reporting and performance metrics.
- Driving cost efficiency while maintaining the highest standards of quality.
- Building strong lender and investor relationships to expand growth opportunities.
- Ensuring every project aligns with Granger Group's mission of creating long-term community value.

With Jeff at the financial helm, Granger Group is positioned to scale with confidence, attract top-tier investment partners, and continue developing transformational projects that blend economic impact with community well-being.
